FIVE THOUSAND SLAUGHTERED

Riots in Odessa Result in Awful Casualty List—Massacres and Outrages Committed Upon Jews—Soldiers Harangue the Mob

St. Petersburg, Nov. 4.—Deplorable rioting in the provinces is still in progress. The total deaths and casualties in Odessa are computed at 5,000 in four days. Three railway stations have been destroyed there and many great wholesale and retail houses were also burned, mostly in the Jewish districts. A grave condition of affairs appears in Kieff. It is said Koshoff is totally destroyed and its three suburbs are smoking ruins. Mifedous tales of massacres and barbarities committed upon Jews come from all over the Empire and especially from the south. Soldiers in uniform are now making inflammatory speeches and the end is not in sight.

SUNDAY CARS

MAY NOT RUN IN WINNIPEG

Civic Board of Works Want Assurance that Employees Will Not be Made to Work Seven Days per Week

Winnipeg, Nov. 3.—A special meeting of the civic board of works last evening discussed Sunday cars, and it is likely they will not run in Winnipeg. The clause providing that the company would not oblige any motorist or conductor to work more than six days in the week was not passed by the board and a clause to the effect that the company would not require or allow any motorist or conductor to work more than six days in a week was substituted. The latter clause being identical with the one now in force in the agreement between Toronto and the Street Railway Company in that city. The Winnipeg Street Railway may not accept the substitute.

T. T. P. WORK PROGRESSING
Ottawa, Nov. 3.—The president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, who is here today, says that work in connection with the G. T. P. is progressing very favorably. He had an interview with Commissioner Parent when the subject of their work was gone fully into.

INSPECTING RIFLES

Col. Evans, of Winnipeg, in the City on a Tour of Inspection

Col. T. D. B. Evans, of Winnipeg, commanding military district No. 10 arrived in the city last night for the purpose of inspecting the rifles of the Edmonton Rifle Association. As all the rifles have not been handed in, Col. Evans could not make a complete inspection. He inspected those that were on hand, however, and found them in first-class condition. He complimented the members of the association on the excellent condition in which the rifles have been kept. The inspection was made at the Customs House on Second street. Col. Evans will remain in the city until all the rifles have been handed in, that a thorough inspection may be made.

AT THE C. N. R. YARDS

Station Rapidly Nearing Completion—Alberta Grain Co's Elevator—Alberta Milling Co's Mill

However rapid has been the advance of the C. N. railway toward Edmonton, the progress made in grading and building in the yards has been no less rapid, and there is every likelihood that the new depot will be ready and things in good running shape when the railway enters the city.

The yards lie in the northern part of the city, between Mackenzie avenue and Columbia avenue, and are nearly a mile in length. The new station stands at the eastern limit of the yards, on First street, and will contain the waiting rooms and ticket offices, baggage rooms, and a dining car department, where supplies for dining cars will be kept. The building is of brick and stone, and when completed will be one of the finest stations on the lines of the Canadian Northern. The roofing is about completed, and the plastering on the interior has commenced. The building will probably be ready for use in two weeks' time.

At the western extremity of the yards a large roundhouse is under construction and machine shops will be built in the rear. No money is being spared for handling grain. It is one of the best of its kind, and there will be tracks for nine locomotives. Directly in front of the roundhouse a large turntable is being built.

On the north side of the yards, to the west of the station, stands Elevator No. 7 of the Alberta Grain Co., a magnificent specimen of its kind and a striking presage of Edmonton's future greatness. This elevator has just been completed, and is now ready for handling grain. It has eleven bins, with a capacity of 45,000 bushels, and is equipped throughout with the Gurney, weighing scales. A 12-horse-power gasoline engine from the Fairbanks-Morse Co. has been installed in the engine room. Just north of this elevator are the large elevators and grain mill of the Alberta Milling Co. Work on these buildings is being pushed ahead rapidly, and it is expected that the mill will be ready for work some time in December. There are two large elevators in connection with the mill, the larger, on the west side, having a capacity of 85,000 bushels, and the other a capacity of 35,000 bushels, with a cleaning mill on the ground floor. The mill itself will have a capacity of about 250 barrels per day. In the big brick engine house a 200-horse-power engine from the Golden-McClellan Co. has been installed. The drive wheel of the engine has a diameter of 16 feet, and weighs 8 tons. The driving shaft is 10 inches in diameter. When completed this mill will be one of the finest in the Province.

MR. BENNETT'S REVISED POLICY

Mr. Bennett and his associates have sunk quickly to their level and are now affording daily evidence of the real worth to the Province. The descent has been rapid and has carried them far. Aspiring to become agitators they succeeded in being only very moderate aggravators. Even this doubtful character was alike beyond their abilities and their inclinations. There remained a lower status and they speedily adopted the weapons of personalities and threw themselves into the role of political assassins. Here they found a congenial sphere, and, disregarding the issues of the campaign, go about seeking whom they can slander. The Calgary Herald daily contributes a testimonial to the solid worth of the Liberal leaders in the Province by declining to meet them on the ground of argument and assailing them personally with the vehemence of a despairing fanatic, while Mr. Bennett who professed before two thousand people in Edmonton to have turned from the error of his ways and learned of prudence from age, had returned to his wallowing in the mire, regardless alike of the dignity of the position he disgraces and the warnings which stand written large in his own political experience. Reviewing the situation the Calgary Albertan says:

There were many features at a political meeting held in Springbank on Wednesday night. Perhaps the most interesting feature of the public was the attack that R. B. Bennett, the Conservative leader, made upon a political opponent, Duncan Marshall.

Mr. Bennett and Mr. Marshall have met a number of times in this campaign. The first encounter was in Nanton where Mr. Bennett made some reflections on the record of his opponent, Mr. Marshall, in reply, jumped into the arena, and challenged Mr. Bennett to produce anything that he had to say about him then and there and the subject would be fought out to a finish. Mr. Bennett had nothing to say. On the evening following, Mr. Marshall and Mr. Bennett were in Calgary and the Conservative leader had nothing to say about his opponent.

Mr. Marshall spoke on the following night at Springbank and there was nothing said. On the night following he was at Innisfall speaking with the Premier, and still there was nothing done. On the following morning he left for the far north and on that afternoon the Conservative machine produced a few columns of slander against Mr. Marshall. But Mr. Bennett, who after the Nanton meeting, apologized to Mr. Marshall for reflecting upon his record and agreed in the future to have nothing to do with personalities kept quiet until the meeting in Springbank, which was far enough away for all practical purposes. Then Mr. Bennett went after his opponent in his own way. What can such leadership expect save the disgust and condemnation of the self-respecting and public-spirited members of its own party and the contempt of those whom it dare not meet on the fair ground of political controversy.

MR. BENNETT AS A STRIFE MAKER

(From the Courier de Ouest.)
At his Edmonton meeting Mr. Bennett grew eloquent about the blood and treasure that was spent by England in "conquering" Canada. Mr. Bennett has not read history aright or he would know that since the French Canadians came under British rule there have been no more loyal and devoted supporters of the British flag than the French people in Canada.

At the time of the American revolution it was the French Canadians who retained Canada to England. Later, at Chateaugay and other points the British prestige in Canada was maintained by them. In the first Rebel rebellion, General Wolsley paid high tribute to the French contingent in their efforts to uphold the "Union Jack" in the west, and in the rebellion of 1885, the 45th Battalion (the French) of Montreal, under Colonel Ournat, stood shoulder to shoulder with the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto, that Britain's possessions in North America should be maintained intact.

At the discussion that preceded Confederation French Canadians such as Carter, Dorion and Tache, stood with Macdonald, Brown and Tupper to bring about the Union of the Province, and it was in the midst of the debates that ensued that Sir George Carter said, "I stand here to speak for the loyalty of the French Canadian to the British flag. If the day should ever come when British supremacy in British North America is endangered, the French in Canada will be found at the side of their English brethren, and the last shot in defence of the "Union Jack" will be fired by a French Canadian.

The roll of Canadian history contains no more honored names than Champlain, Frontenac, Montcalm, de Salaberry, Marquette and hundreds of other French Canadians who gave their labor and their lives to the making of Canada, and it is not to the credit of Mr. Bennett that he should put out on our people, by speaking of them as an inferior race. On the Plains of Abraham, to which he frequently refers, if he will make a pilgrimage to that shrine, he will see a monument which has been erected to the memory of the two great generals who fell at the battle of Quebec. On one face of the monument is " Wolfe"; on the other face is "Montcalm." It was permitted by Providence that the two heroes should die at the same time, and their blood cemented a friendship between two great peoples which time has not effaced. And the puny efforts of Mr. Bennett will not break that friendship or disturb the unity that now exists.

THE ROAD MONEY

The Herald and Mr. Bennett Busy
Explaining What Was Said and What Was Meant

Mr. Bennett and the Calgary Herald are having troubles of their own explaining what Mr. Bennett actually said and what he really meant at the Liberal meeting held in that city a few days since. According to the Herald of the following day:

"The most exciting period was that in which Mr. Bennett declared with his accustomed vigor that 'these were representatives of the Liberal party-men high in the confidence of the party going around Alberta with road money in their pockets, declaring 'We've got the money, bribing and corrupting the people with public funds.'"

An uproar followed instantly, and there were cries of "Oh! Oh! Names! Retract! Take it Back! Withdraw! and similar protests of more or less violence."

Mr. Cushing sprang to his feet clinched teeth, advanced to the table, and, glaring at Mr. Bennett, cried with so much vehemence that it could be heard above the roar: "That's a lie."

Mr. Bennett stood his ground, crying: "It is true and I can prove it. 'Bear with me a minute and I will 'give you the names.'"

"After several minutes the noise subsided sufficiently for him to proceed. Then Mr. Bennett declared Puffer of Lacombe had told one Early that he had $1,000 for road money; that John Simpson, of Inisfail, had said that he had $500 road money for immediate use; that John Walker, Liberal candidate for Victoria, had stated that he had $1,000 for road money."

"Why are these men entrusted by the Minister of Public Works with money that should be expended by the country authorities?" demanded Mr. Bennett, with great emphasis. "If it is not for the purpose of bribing the electors to approve the Liberal Government's course in this election, I repeat that this is a gross money, and I can bring the affidavits of men to whom these statements have been made by these candidates of the Liberal party seeking election."

It will be seen that the incident has been carefully noted by the Herald, and that it took the precaution to put Mr. Bennett's word which bore particularly upon the question, inside of quotation marks. And now what do we find, simply that Mr. Bennett a few evenings later, at another great meeting, denies that he said what the reporter had written. Here is how Mr. Bennett tried to "hedge" at the Labor meeting, held in Calgary on the 27th, also reported by the Herald:

When order was restored Mr. Bennett said that he did not say that Liberal candidates were going around the country with road money in their pockets, but he did say that they had gone to several people and asserted that they had several amounts of road money to spend."

That is a very different statement from that which the Herald published the day after the meeting, and which was supposed to be a fair report of what happened.

That would be an easy way to dispose of the matter if, on the 25th of October, the Herald had not "bobbed up suddenly," and put the following "sensation" on the front page next to genuine reading matter, and in all the glory of double column display:

ROAD MONEY IN HANDS OF LIBERAL CANDIDATES TO CORRUPT THE ELECTORS OF ALBERTA.

Extract from assertions of candidates last night:

There are Liberal candidates and Liberal workers from one end of this province to the other with road money in their pockets to buy the electorate and corrupt the country that the coercion forces may win. What right have they to be discharging road money at this time and what is the object except a corrupt purpose?—R. B. Bennett.

That's a lie—a lie, and you know it's a lie—W. H. Cushing, Minister of Public Works.

I will name some of them and can support my statements with affidavits from men to whom the statements were made. I name Puffer, of Lacombe, J. A. Simpson, of Inisfail, and Walker, of Victoria, as the men from whom $1,000 to $500 of road money in their pockets, according to their boast, and there are others.—R. B. Bennett.

This extract is authoritative. It is the essence of Mr. Bennett's rambling utterance boiled down to reasonable length. It is published as exact words that were spoken. And it was not until Mr. Cushing, in virtuous indignation, turned the tables upon him at the Labor meeting later on that Mr. Bennett, glib of tongue as usual, undertook to "hedge."

If the statement made by Mr. Bennett on the 24th Oct., does not mean that the Liberal candidates, Messrs. John Simpson, of Inisfail, W. A. Puffer of Lacombe, and John Walker, of Victoria, were the men named, were going around with road money in their pockets to corrupt the people," why do the Bennett papers, from the Edmonton Journal to the Calgary Herald, continue to publish the fabrication?

On Wednesday, October 25, the Herald published a "sensation heading" four columns wide over Mr. Bennett's story, as follows: "Deliberate charges by R. B. Bennett of corruption by Liberal candidates and use of road money as bribes."

When the statement was made, Hon. Mr. Cushing, who was on the platform, branded it as a falsehood. Messrs. Simpson and Puffer denied the truth of Mr. Bennett's allegations over their signatures.

And now Mr. Bennett, at the Labor meeting in Calgary, says that the Herald's story that he (Bennett) said that "Liberal candidates were going around with road money in their pockets" is false and that he never said it.

It is up to the Herald and Mr. Bennett to get together and frame up a report by which they are prepared to stand.

Allowance to Ex-Cabinet Ministers Will be Abolished or Time Limit Extended

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—A bill will be introduced next session repealing the law of last session which gives retiring Ministers of the Crown a pension of half their salary after serving five years. If the bill is not entirely repealed then it will be amended extending the length of service following the principle of the British statute dealing with this subject.

HAMILTON BANKER.

Hamilton, Nov. 3.—The announcement that a warrant has been issued at the instance of the Bank of Hamilton officials for the arrest of Hugh Brown, a well known society man and clubman and manager of the east end branch of the bank created the biggest kind of a sensation here. Brown is a brother-in-law of Hon. J. S. Hendrie and a son of Adam Brown, ex-M.P. and post-master. The amount alleged to be involved is large.

STURGEON NOTES

On Tuesday when Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scholtz were away from home, fire was blown from the smouldering remains of a straw pile into the stubble, thence to the long grass, where it found two stacks containing about fifteen tons of hay. It then travelled out to the open land on the school section, south, where some forty men fought it all afternoon and at last succeeded in extinguishing it.

Mrs. Crozier is very sick with pneumonia.

The Young People's Society has resumed regular meetings on Wednesday evenings in the Methodist church.

FALLACIES EXPOSED

Some of Mr. Bennett's Misstatements
Nailed—Exaggerations or the Extent of Public Lands

Mr. Bennett is in the habit of referring to a hundred million acres of lands retained by the Dominion. Analyze this statement, and it will be found as inaccurate as most of his allegations. All the agricultural land contained in an area of 500 miles from the American boundary north with an average width of 250 miles. This would give only 80,000,000 acres of land, including Indian reserves, lakes, swamps and mountains. Of this amount, the even numbered sections, reserved for free homesteads is 40,000,000 acres, which will come back to our settlers and belong to us, leaving 40,000,000 millions acres of the odd numbered sections, one ninth of which belongs to us as school sections and of which 28,000,000 acres has already been disposed of by the former Conservative Governments as grants and subsidies, leaving only twelve million instead of the one hundred million which Mr. Bennett is complaining about.

To control these lands the Federal Government has been generous with us, giving us more money for the carrying on of our government than was received per capita by any other provinces. When new states were made in the American Federation they did not receive their lands for the reason that we will not be given the lands, but they did not, as we do, receive instead of them a cash subsidy starting at $375,000 and working up as our population increases, to the sum of $1,250,000 a year, at which figure it continues forever. In the course of a very short time our lands will come back to us in the hands of settlers, and we then have the lands and the subsidy. We will eat our cake and have it too. This settlement was pronounced fair and satisfactory by Mr. Haultain the Conservative leader in Saskatchewan, and was condemned only for its generosity by the Conservatives in the House of Commons. This settlement is what Mr. Bennett and the Conservatives are denouncing now.

The Dominion in the bill have made most generous terms with us. We receive to start with, as much as the whole North-West received last year, and more according to population than any of the Provinces formed in the past. If we are to have our lands we would have to raise big sums from them at once, and as the only ones ready now to buy big tracts of land away from the railroads would be the big corporations it would mean they would secure control of our lands at a low figure and hold them for a big advance.

ORIENTAL MARKET

Mr. W. Richmond Smith, the war correspondent who went out to South Africa with the First Canadian contingent and who recently represented the Associated Press and Reuters' Telegram company with the Imperial Japanese army in front of Port Arthur during the siege, has been in Calgary during the past few days. Speaking to a Herald representative, Mr. Smith said he returned from Japan by way of San Francisco during the month of June last and proceeded direct to England to secure publishers for a book he has written upon the siege and fall of Port Arthur, which was published in England a few days ago.

"It was the great amount of attention which was being paid to the Canadian West among the English people," said Mr. Smith, "which induced me to pay a hurried visit this fall to the wheat fields of the North West. The people of England have I think at last awakened to the fact that of all the colonies Canada has the greatest immediate future. This fact is demonstrated by the very large number of prominent business men who have, during the past summer, visited the country and who have returned to England impressed with the future possibilities of the Great West. A large number of these English visitors were more than mere tourists who came through motives of curiosity. Many of them came with definite missions of a business character, and I feel certain the tremendous awakening which has taken place in England with regard to Canada will result in a far more intelligent investment of British capital in this country than has ever taken place in the past. The investment of British capital in Canada in former years has been more or less disastrous, principally owing to the failure of those who invested their money to secure accurate information and a knowledge of local conditions here. This fact has made the British investor fight shy of Canadian investments. The enormous crops of the last few years, however, have aroused a new and more intelligent interest and moneyed men are now visiting the country themselves with a view to making investments.

"It is impossible for any man to travel through this great Western country and not be deeply impressed with its future possibilities. The only danger lies in the visitor carrying away too favorable an impression. In that regard I think the people of the West are just a little short-sighted. In all cases what we can see is more than sufficiently favorable without attempts being made to paint the lily. The West has too good a case to present to those who desire to invest their capital to make it necessary to do more than paint the picture of prosperity as it is with all its drawbacks. Especially for the British capital this is much the best thing to do."

"Six years ago I stopped off for a few hours at Calgary. It was then a crude western town of wooden houses. The Calgary of today is a wholly different place. It is simply amazing what the town has accomplished in that period. The general conditions throughout Manitoba and the West show the same marvellous improvements. There is no doubt this whole western country is on the eve only of the same marvellously rapid progress which came to the States.

"The production of fall wheat in this district will, if it is attended with the same measures of success in the future as in the past, be the source of great wealth to the district about Calgary, in fact to the whole Province of Alberta. In the course of a few years a market for fall wheat will be opened up in Japan which will tax the producing power of the Pacific coast states and the Western sections of the Canadian West to supply. The people of Japan do not grow wheat. They have no cattle. The national food for generations has been rice and fish. Owing to the recent war with Russia, the Japanese troops suffered a great deal from beri beri, a disease caused by a steady rice diet. The epidemic was partially checked by mixing wheat with the rice. When the cold winter weather came on in Manchuria it was found that the soldiers and sailors could not endure the hardships of the campaign upon this national food. Meat and bread were served out as rations and were much used both in the navy and army. With the commercial expansion which Japan is bound to experience now that the war is over the life of the great mass of the Japanese people will lie along easier lines. With the increase of wealth which commerce and a larger field for national expansion will bring the people will be able to increase their earning power. The first articles of Western food which will come into common use will be bread and meat. You have only to look at the enormous population of the Japanese empire to realize what the market will be when these articles of food come into common use in Japan. In my opinion the great future market for both flour and cattle grown in Alberta will be in Japan and in a measure also the great untapped domain in Korea and Manchuria.

THE FARMER'S MARKET

The oat crop of the West is a very important subject to a large number of farmers in Alberta and Saskatchewan, and it is dealt with very fully in the October issue of the Farm & Ranch Review, Calgary.

The Review points out that the present crop of oats is estimated at twenty-two million bushels in the two mentioned provinces as compared with a little over sixteen million bushels a year ago. It points out that after making allowance for additional home consumption this year, owing to the increase in population, there will be considerable surplus, so deals very fully with the export outlook and the advisability of beginning grain feeding for export purposes on a fairly large scale. After sizing up the situation it strongly advises that as many farmers as possible hold their oats for an average price of 28¢ per bushel. This it considers a fair value for buyer and seller. By some holding it will spread the sales over so much longer a period, that even those who are forced to sell early will be benefited.

It advocates feeding a larger number of cattle for export purposes, claiming that this would increase the price of cattle each fall through a lengthened selling period. The finished product is what our farmers should aim to sell for, as the Review very aptly puts it. "Experience has demonstrated that the farmer who sells finished products is the one who makes the most money in his business. Finished products from a farmer's standpoint are those carried to the highest possible point before going to market. Finished products are the result of mixed farming. The farmer who raises grain and sells it makes his legitimate profit on the grain. If he sells it at just what it cost to produce it, he will grow none every year. The farmer who keeps live stock to consume the grain and hay he grows sells beef, pork, mutton, cream or butter, eggs and poultry. These are all finished products from the farmer's point of view, and carry all the profits possible to net out of farm produce. The farmer who sells hay and grain sends out raw material and in doing so turns off the fertility of his farm in large quantities."

Russian Arms Disentitled

Nezasski, Nov. 2.—On account of the military censorship after the ratification of the peace treaty when the Associated Press correspondent left for the front, a statement for the press of conditions in Russian Manchuria and Eastern Siberia was impossible.

There was general, and, especially in the army, seething vituperation and discrimination affecting all the highest personages in Russia regarding the causes of the war and the motives by which it was inspired, and fixing the blame. There was a general distrust of all government acts. The military appeared to be anxious to remain in the east indefinitely, most of the officers declining to return to Russia on account of the terrors of which recurring disorders there gave them promise. The large number of Russians belonging to the progressive element, who have settled in the east, anticipate a new modern empire, and were animated by a spirit of revolt. The intelligence that anti-government demonstration had been successfully repressed, caused such an outbreak in the Irkutsk theatre that the Marseillaise was sung, and there were shouts of "down with the government," and "down with the Emperor." The peasants and lower classes were declaring against religious practices of the state church, something hitherto unknown. Owing to the strain on the railway caused by the concentration of General Linvitch's army, demolition was relatively slow. Generals Kaulbars and Batsonoff, commanders of the second and third armies, hurriedly quit the field after the treaty of peace was signed. General Kuropatkin will be among the last to leave.

When the armistice was signed at Shabotsu it was revealed that a scandal in the management of the army on the Tumen River had been discovered, consisting of the forage of the provisions causing a famine, and also military malpractice, owing to which the Japanese refused to negotiate the armistice there, even after their successful victory.

HIGH SCHOOL LITERARY

Officers Elected for the Coming Year—
The Party System Adopted

The plan pursued this year by the students of the high school, in electing their officers for the literary society, was the party system scheme. For a week or more, each side, under efficient and enthusiastic leadership, has held meetings and discussed issues in numerous hot debates. Much interest has been aroused among the student body, and as well as affording considerable pleasure and excitement to school life, this political venture has been a training and education in itself in many ways and in the future in all probability, will be a recognized custom in society elections.

The elections took place on Friday and gave a very satisfactory result, showing that both parties had worked hard and faithfully. However, the party known as the "Reds" or "Agitators" gained the majority of the offices.

All look forward to a bright and prosperous future, and it is to be expected that this will be a banner year in the history of the High School literary society.

Following is a list of all officers installed for the ensuing year:

Hon. Pres.—John A. McDougall.
Patrons—His Honor Lieut.-Gov. Bulver; Hon. A. C. Rutherford, Rev. H. A. Gray, Mayor McKenzie.
President—J. Edwin Knott.
Vice president—Lillian Doze.
Second vice president—Lazelle Blaney.

Recording secretary—Florence Foran.

Treasurer—Kate Wade.
Corresponding secretary—Logie Anderson.

Councillors—Walter Walker, Lucinda McCauley, Fairlie MacSween, Ethel Burkholder.

Critic—R. H. Johnson, B.A.
Judge—Geo. E. Ellis, B. A.
